

E-learning: An Introduction to Legal Project Management (LPM)

Synopsis

This short e-learning course is a call to action.

The tools used to deliver legal services are evolving and the events of 2020 have rapidly accelerated the pace of change.

Progressive firms are expanding their LPM capabilities to improve service delivery, better manage remote teams and make more profit.

Duration

10-15 mins

Format

A short overview. You can stop at any time. The next time you log-in you will be prompted to restart the session at the place you left off.

Delegates

Perfect for anyone working in a law firm who wants to find out more about LPM. From paralegals to senior lawyers, and those in business support roles, the session is designed to encourage you to find out more.

---

Outcomes

As a result of this course, you will:

- Understand the benefits of developing your LPM capabilities
- Consider key questions
  - Do lawyers do projects?
  - How can LPM help me to do my job better?
- Hear the client's perspective
- Be encouraged to find out more

Content

1. What goes wrong? Common problems in matter delivery explored
2. The pitch – how LPM can address or mitigate those problems
3. The project management cycle explained in overview
4. A brief analysis of whether lawyers 'do projects'
5. The key benefits to your clients
6. The key benefits to your firm (and you)
7. What do clients say? Contributions from General Counsel
8. What next? How can we help?

Your clients use project management to help them control delivery and budgets, including legal spend. Your competitors are developing their LPM teams and training their fee earners to embed LPM support. If you are interested in doing the same, get in touch.